

Mr. Michael Powell

I think the media is already not serving its purpose (to inform people) as it is now. Here in LA we have only one big newspaper (The LA TIMES) and it is operated from Chicago. The American people don't get the information they need to know what is going on. I myself reach out for the information from foreign press to get an accurate picture of what our government is doing. With your idea of consolidating the media even more, you make the media more propagandistic and dangerous for the citizens. I am also aghast that you have not released the actual language of the rule change and that you did not allow congress time to discuss that important matter. This is another way how the "big ones" in this country try to undermine true democracy. I strongly urge you to listen to the citizens of this country and to retain the current ownership rules on June 2nd.
